

BACHELOR'S PROGRAM IN RUSSIAN PHILOLOGY

45.03.01 Philology: Russian Language and Literature

Successful completion of the program is a key to fundamental classical philological education on the basis of the Russian language. The acquired knowledge provides for research activity under Master's and Postgraduate programs, development opportunities in pedagogical area and literary criticism.

The program content fields incorporate the following range of subject disciplines:

- History of Linguistics
- Literary Editing
- Oral Folk Arts
- Theory and Practice of Effective Communication
- Contemporary Literature and Arts
- Literature as the Basis for National Mentality Research
- Linguistic City Studies

Application deadline: 24 July 2017
Start date: 1 September 2017
Duration: 2 years
Credits: 120
Delivery mode: full-time, face-to-face
Language: Russian